Dear Friend:

Your letter of March 22 received. I just returned from a lecture tour where I lectured in Washington D. C. to some of the branches of the government also for the general public. I find the interest rising, slow but surely. As soon as I get more time I will make a tape for you in the mean time don't worry, things will work out. If I cannot come this year, next year will be just as good maybe even better; so keep the good work going and tell all of your people that I think of them often.

Sincerely yours,

J. W. Williams
