Dear Co-worker:

For the past month I have received many requests for information as to the Brothers' attitude regarding the Russian satellites. During the weekend of October 19th, before Sputnik 2 was sent out, I had the pleasure of spending several hours with the Brothers. Naturally I too asked about the first baby moon that had been successfully launched from Earth into space.

I was told that they were watching its movements closely. There were from six to twenty-four ships observing it at all times. The report that another planet was interfering with its rotations resulted from occasional incidents when one of their ships came too close to the little satellite and its force-field affected the sensitive instruments within the baby moon.

They said that so far as they were able to learn, space experimentation from Russia has been solely scientific in nature. Therefore they had not interfered. They would never interfere with any such experimentation in any nation on Earth in this direction because it is only through such research and effort that Earth's inhabitants will be able to visit other planets, as they are doing now. But, should any nation send into space a missile of destructive nature, it would be confiscated and not permitted to accomplish its purpose.

Recently too there have been a lot of inquiries as to why the flurry of sightings in southwest U.S.A. where cars were stopped on the highways. At the same time close sightings were reported from many parts of the world and several contacts were reported, although few of these received any publicity.

This is what the people have been asking for. Now that their requests are being fulfilled, they question the reason. On the other hand, I feel sure that the space travelers are forestalling every possibility for future propaganda that they have left since the launching of space satellites from our planet. They want to be sure that the people everywhere on Earth know that they are still around in as great numbers as ever before, watching carefully all that is going on here. And their coming in close as they are doing, reassures us of their friendship since often in such cases, the craft lands close-by and a few people are invited inside the ship, so I have been told--not by the space people because I have not seen them since these incidents have taken place.

Once we on Earth change our attitudes toward one another so that we respect our fellowmen and learn to live with one another in harmony and friendship, it will then be safe for them to land openly and be assured that they too will be received in friendship. But I am sure that we cannot expect any such event to take place until we have made efforts in this direction between the peoples of Earth.

It is hoped that our efforts, as we are now working with both our Brothers of other worlds and our fellowmen on Earth will prove successful steps in this direction.

I have had no recent reports from the scientists on space ships who are watching the natural changes taking place as our planet shifts on its axis, but a look at weather reports and other earthly activities not of man's making alerts us to the fact that something extraordinary is in progress. In this I G Y our scientists are carefully observing these conditions and I firmly believe that people will be alerted before the approach of any real danger anywhere on Earth. Then it will be for the people to heed such warnings.

The above is the first report I have succeeded in sending out to our Leaders in many nations. As the Brothers' plan gets into operation in many more nations, I hope to be able to make these reports regularly. Thus far it has been impossible because of the vast amount of mail which had stacked up and which I endeavored to answer before forwarding to the Leaders. Better than half of this is now accomplished and in the future letters will be forwarded to the Leaders unanswered, for them to reply to. I believe most of the Leaders with whom I first started this plan know the answers well enough to be able to carry on for me. Should there be questions about which any Leader desires more information, please do not hesitate to write. Since the big burden will soon be shared with you who are working with the Brothers and me, I will have more time and opportunity to answer your questions more promptly, I hope. But there is much for us all to do.

Carbon copies of this letter are being made and this will continue to be the practice with future reports. I am sure you understand this need.
