Dear Mr. Kubota:

I am writing to notify you that Mr. Adamski passed away last night in Washington D. C. He had been on a lecture since the latter part of February, throughout the eastern part of the country and was nearly finished with the tour and had expected to be home by May 8th, but he took cold which turned into pneumonia and a heart attack. He did not suffer long.

Mrs. Wells flew to Washington D. C. this morning to look after the necessary details and she asked me to notify the co-workers. It is a great shock to all of us and a great loss to the world as well.

Sincerely yours,

Martina Ulbrich
